FRIDAY, 22 JANUARY 2010

Museum to show history of Muslim Science

The Science Museum in London has opened an exhibition which celebrates 1000 years of science from the Muslim world.

This outstanding and timely free exhibition will highlight the many remarkbale discoveries by Muslims like Algebra from the Arabic word Al Jabr.

London Muslim has written previously about the work of the organisers behind this event.

POSTED BY LONDONMUSLIM AT 07:08

REACTIONS: interesting (0) cool (0) No comments (0)